In his first post-disqualification press meet

Rahul Gandhi trains guns on PM Modi

New Delhi, Mar. 25 (Agencies)- A day after his disqualification as MP, Rahul Gandhi, the former Congress President, launched a blistering attack on Prime Minister Narendra Modi, raising questions on his (PM) relationship with industrialist Gautam Adani, in whose shell companies Rs. 20,000 crore has been allegedly invested, with no details of investors.

Rahul Gandhi, who addressed media at AICC Headquarters here this afternoon, with his sister Priyanka Gandhi seated in the front row, said that he (Rahul) stands disqualified as the Prime Minister was afraid of his next speech in the Parliament.

"I will not stop asking questions and will keep questioning the relationship between PM Modi and Adani," added Rahul, claiming to be unnerved over his disqualification, that has rather emboldened Opposition parties by giving them weapons to fight Modi. In a half-hour-long media conference, the first after he (Rahul) was disqualified by LS Secretariat yesterday, after a Surat Court in Gujarat (on Mar. 23) convicted him for a 2019 Modi surname defamation case, with imprisonment for two years but was granted bail subsequently, the former Wayanad MP came down heavily on PM.

Rahul Gandhi addressing a press conference at New Delhi today.

Taking a barrage of media queries, Rahul reiterated "Democracy is being attacked in the country, as is evident with recent developments. I raised questions in the Parliament regarding the relationship between PM Modi and Adani. My speech in the Parliament was expunged, and after that I wrote a detailed reply to the Lok Sabha Speaker. I will not stop asking questions, I will keep questioning the relationship between PM Modi and Adani." "When the ruling party enjoys the support of all institutions, the Opposition parties can only look at the public for support. Seeking truth is my way forward. This is not fashionable in politics and it (seeking truth) is in my blood," retorted Rahul, saying Modi went into a panic mode and hence the disqualification.

Mysuru, Mar. 25 (SSM)- Marking World Kidney Day-2023, Sigma Hospital will be conducting a free Kidney disease screening camp tomorrow (Mar. 26) from 9 am to 1 pm at its premises in Saraswathipuram here.

Addressing a press meet in city yesterday, Sigma Hospital Director Dr. K.M. Madappa said that the theme of this year's World Kidney Day is 'Preparing for the unexpected and protecting the vulnerable.'

MLA L. Nagendra will be the chief guest and inaugurate the camp. SAST Regional Consultant Dr. Manchegowda, Assistant Regional Consultant Dr. Naveen Kumar and SAST Mysuru District Coordinator Dr. Monisha will be the special invitees.

At this free camp, individuals can avail blood sugar, urine test and specialist consultation. If required, Kidney scan and Creatinine test will be conducted. BPL card holders who are benefitted under Arogya Karnataka/Ayushman Bharat Scheme can get required treatment free of cost. In case of patients suffering from end stage Kidney disease, Hospital will provide assistance for Kidney transplantation under the Scheme.

Chronic Kidney Disease is now rampant with almost one person in ten already suffering from it. The first step towards reducing the burden of Kidney diseases is to detect it in early stage and take corrective measures to prevent or delay its progression.

With over 25,000 successful surgeries in the last 8 years, Sigma Hospital leads Mysuru city in the scale and expertise of Urology care delivered. Sigma Urology Department uses minimally invasive procedures for surgical treatment of over 95 percent of the Urological diseases.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

BRUSH WITH THE BLUSHES: When I was the Assistant Commissioner of Chitradurga, the amount of compensation to be paid to the owner in a land acquisition case was unduly delayed, and the Court ordered the attachment of my chair. I was thrown out of my office! The Government, thankfully, took immediate action and released the funds not only for my office but for the whole district. Undeservedly, I got their gratitude and became popular, though initially there was severe embarrassment.

Devaraj Urs had a liking for me and once, at Chitradurga, asked me for a pen. And I had lost my pen in the crowd. He admonished me, saying, "What kind of Deputy Commissioner are you, coming to the CM without even a pen?" Though he immediately calmed down when I told him I had just lost it and said, "Then I withdraw what I said," I was clearly embarrassed.

We are bound to face many embarrassing situations in our lives. But we should learn how to face the blushes without losing balance. —Philipose Matthai (Retd. IAS Officer) in Deccan Herald

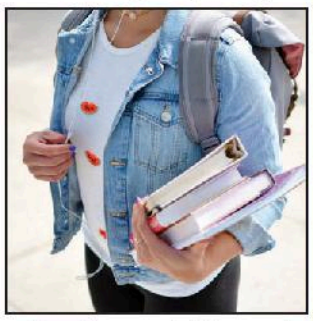
Soaps that look good enough to eat

Saint Petersburg: Julia Popova, a talented soap maker based in Saint Petersburg, Russia, creates amazingly detailed bars of soap that look like delectable desserts, liquor bottles or juicy fruits, good enough to eat.

Nine years ago, when Julia started making her beautiful soap bars, she only made them as gifts for family and friends, but she received such positive feedback that she actually started showing them off on social media. And soon, orders started coming in and the Om-Non Soap brand was born. In the beginning, she would buy regular soap bars, melt them and them mold them into the desired shapes, but as she became more involved in the artistic process, she started buying the base ingredients and then making her own soap. Well, calling it soap doesn't do it justice, as every one of her creations is more like a piece of art.

Poses as student to re-live glory days



New Jersey: A 29-year-old South Korean woman who forged her birth certificate in order to pose as a 16-year-old teenager and enroll at a New Jersey high school claims she did it only out of nostalgia.

In January this year, Hyejeong Shin, a legal USA resident, made headlines after being caught pretending to be a 16-year-old girl at New Brunswick High School in New Jersey. Just a few days into her adventure, the staff discovered that she had faked her birth certificate in order to gain admission.

Recently revealed information suggests that Shin was also reported by a number of students whom she had started acting weird with. The young woman claims that she never intended to hurt anyone and that she merely wanted to relive the experience that made her feel the safest growing up.

Install signal lights at Vijayanagar 4th Stage to curb traffic violation

Sir,

Whenever I drive to and fro from Vijayanagar 4th Stage connecting Outer Ring Road (ORR), I have witnessed a total traffic chaos.

The vehicles move on either directions on ORR, speeding past as if it is an Expressway showing least concern to the vehicles entering from 80 feet road to ORR. At times during traffic jam, no vehicles will be able to move even an inch further with none making way for others.

I feel that installing signal lights and making it operational should be the top priority. Further, at every signal point CCTV cameras are to be installed to capture traffic offenders, especially two-wheelers who care a hoot for signals. Traffic offenders must be heavily penalised to prevent them from repeating the offence. I hope the authorities concerned will take a serious look into the menace of traffic violators, who pose danger to others by jumping signals, speeding past, talking on cellphones, while riding and driving their vehicles on wrong side of the road.

Gold plate pawning case

Court finds former Sosale Vyasaraja Mutt Seer, two others guilty

Mysuru, Mar. 25 (BS)- The previous pontiff of Sosale Sri Vyasaraja Mutt and two others have been pronounced guilty by a Court here, in the case related to pawning of gold plates of the Mutt with a private financier in city.

Judge Gururaja Somakkalavar of Sixth Additional District and Sessions Court found the previous pontiff of the Mutt Sri Vidyamanohara Teertha, his mother Srimathi and B.R. Nataraj Jois associated with the previous management board of the Mutt guilty.

The Judge also imposed a fine of Rs. 5,000 each, besides asking them to furnish a bond of Rs. 50,000 each, directing them to maintain a good conduct for one year without committing any offence. They (guilty) should also provide their permanent residential address and the Officers should keep a watch on them for one year, according to the judgment.

The accused have been proven guilty under IPC Sections 406, 408 and 420. However, considering the age of Srimathi and Nataraj Jois and the reason of Vidyamanohara Teertha having the responsibility of taking care of his parents, the guilty have been exempted from going to jail, as mentioned in the judgement copy.

Case history

In the year 2011, as the pontiff of Sosale Sri Vyasaraja Mutt, Sri Vidyamanohara Teertha Swamiji had pawned two gold plates weighing 500 grams each, belonging to the Mutt, at Sunil Finance on D. Devaraj Urs Road for a sum of Rs. 5 lakh. The devotees led by Narendra of Bengaluru, President of Vyasaraja Mutt Seva Samithi, had staged a protest in this regard.

A case had also been registered at Lakshmipuram Police Station and the Police had even seized the gold plates.

Criminal Defamation
A Flawed Law

Rahul Gandhi is no more a Member of Parliament. He has been disqualified because a Surat Court sentenced him to two years imprisonment. This brings to the fore the issue of criminal defamation law.

This sentencing is because Rahul Gandhi, during the 2019 election campaign, sarcastically asked, after naming Nirav Modi, Lalit Modi and PM Modi, "How come all the thieves have Modi as the common surname?"

Was Rahul Gandhi's statement so heinous a crime that he deserves a two-year imprisonment and an eight-year disqualification from contesting elections? Such a disproportionate punishment indicates it is time to fix the defamation law.

The critical question is, was the lawsuit even admissible in Court? According to the defamation law, only a specific 'Modi' can file a case to show how his character was defamed. But the lawsuit that got Rahul a jail term was filed by a BJP MLA from Surat, whose surname happens to be Modi and whose name Rahul Gandhi did not take. Context is important.

Rahul Gandhi only mentioned the names of fugitives Nirav Modi and Lalit Modi. He then brought up the name of Prime Minister Narendra Modi in the context of the Rafael fighter jet purchase controversy, after which he made the snide remark, "How come all the thieves have Modi as the common surname." So, if anyone had the right to file a defamation case, it was one of the three Modis Rahul mentioned and not every Modi in every corner of the planet.

The fact that a non-involved party, just by virtue of his surname being Modi, can file a case and that case is admitted in Court is unnerving.

What about actor Khushbu Sundar who made the same statement as Rahul did a year earlier in 2018? She tweeted, "Modi surname's meaning should be equated to corruption." She even wrote, "Nirav, Lalit, Namo = corruption." But now that she is no longer a Congress Spokesperson but has joined the BJP, is it OK?

If one cannot handle a bit of humour, sarcasm and a heavy dose of criticism in a democracy, then why have freedom of speech as a fundamental right at all?

It's time for archaic British laws like criminal defamation to be removed from our system. To give due credit, the BJP has indeed done its bit.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, during his 2014 election campaign, had said that he would repeal ten archaic laws for every law his Government makes. And on Aug. 11, 2014, two months after he was sworn-in, 'The Repealing and Amending Bill, 2014' was introduced in the Lok Sabha by the then Minister of Law and Justice, Ravi Shankar Prasad.

The Congress leaders must acknowledge the fact that in the last 60 years, just 1,301 laws were declared obsolete, while in just the last seven years, more than 1,200 Acts have been repealed. Next, another 1,824 such laws are being scrutinised. Let us hope sedition and criminal defamation laws are among them.

But most political parties seldom change laws that they can 'misuse.'

In 2021 the Supreme Court heard a plea challenging the Constitutionality of the Sedition Law (IPC Section 124A).

While hearing the plea, the then Chief Justice of India, Justice N.V. Ramana, asked Attorney General K.K. Venugopal, "It is a colonial law and was used by the British to suppress freedoms…is this law still needed after 75 years of Independence?"

Senior Congress leader Mani Shankar Aiyar then wrote, "The Narendra Modi cohort has invoked this charge 96 times in 2019 alone!" But he conveniently forgot that in 2012, the Congress Government booked 9,000 sedition cases in one incident alone!

On the same issue, former Congress leader Kapil Sibal wanted the Sedition Law scrapped because, as he put it, "Those in power are manipulating it, and there is no need for a Sedition Law in today's times…" But what was he doing when he was the Law Minister and the time his Government ruled India for ten long years?

Politicians always see laws as instruments of politics, and criminal defamation is one such law. Sometimes deployed to silence the press, other times to trouble the Opposition leaders or occasionally to promote themselves.

Rahul Gandhi is indeed using it for self-promotion. It's a strategy for sympathy, and BJP is falling for it.

The Supreme Court of India, in a 2013 judgement, stated that any MP, MLA or MLC convicted of a crime and given a minimum of two years imprisonment would lose membership in Parliament with immediate effect. Senior Congress leaders, of whom many are legal luminaries, knew this but did not state in the Surat Court that they disputed its ruling!

Then despite being aware of the Court ruling, Rahul Gandhi attended the Lok Sabha on Friday, knowing he would be disqualified. He did this knowing fully well that it would force the Lok Sabha Secretary-General to issue the notification of disqualification in accordance with the Representation of the People Act.

Suddenly the BJP realises the two years' imprisonment and disqualification are too extreme a punishment and is worried about Rahul getting a sympathy wave as his grandmother did.

Many may recall how the Janata Party government arrested Indira Gandhi in October 1977 on charges of corruption and misuse of authority. The Janata government's action boomeranged, swaying public sympathy in her favour.

Her arrest brought her back into public life and focus. Indira Gandhi termed her arrest on October 3, 1977, as a 'political one' and added, "we can't be silent spectators when we see suffering and injustice." A year after her arrest, which lasted 16 hours, Indira Gandhi won the LS bypoll from Chikkamagalur and went on to become the PM again in 1980.

Rahul is now saying, "I'm fighting for the voice of India. I am ready to pay any price." We think he is fighting for his survival and resurrection and is willing to pay any price for it.

Rahul may very well choose to go to jail for a brief period and then come out just in time for the 2024 election and hope a sympathy wave will resurrect his career, the kind of sympathy that resurrected his grandmother's.

For now, the law for defamation in India, especially criminal defamation, rather than protecting the reputation of a citizen, is an instrument of politics. Criminal defamation is a flawed law that allows ridiculously disproportionate punishment and needs to go.

'Maharshi Sushruta' statue unveiled at MMC&RI

Mysuru, Mar. 25 (RK&DM)- The statue of 'Maharshi Sushruta,' the Father of Surgery, was unveiled at the Mysore Medical College and Research Institute's (MMC&RI) newly constructed Academic and Library Block in the Old Exhibition building adjoining the Institute on Irwin Road in the city this morning.

Dr. G.N. Narayana Reddy, the 93-year-old alumnus of Mysore Medical College (of 1949 batch) and formerly two-time Director of NIMHANS, Bengaluru, unveiled the statue.

Speaking on the occasion, Dr. C.G. Narasimhan, a senior surgeon of the city and donor of the statue, said that Maharshi Sushruta was an ancient Indian surgeon and is known as the Father of Surgery.

Noting that unfortunately the Maharshi was little known in his own country India, Dr. Narasimhan said a statue of the Maharshi existed in Germany and a few other western countries, which made him to think to have the Maharshi's statue in the campus of Mysore Medical College, of which he (Dr. Narasimhan) is a proud alumnus.

He later conceptualised the idea and held discussions with the then MMC&RI Director Dr. C.P. Nanjaraj a couple of years ago, which ultimately resulted in the statue becoming a reality in the Medical Institute campus.

Pointing out that the 6 ft. tall statue (inclusive of pedestal) is made of black stone (Krishna Shile), he said that renowned sculptor of the city Arun Yogiraj has sculpted the statue.

Continuing, Dr. Narasimhan said that 'Sushruta Samhita' is an ancient Sanskrit text on Medicine and Surgery written by the Maharshi and one of the most important such treatises on this subject to survive from the ancient times. His works compiled as 'Sushruta Samhita' describes 60 types of Upkarma for treatment of wounds, 120 surgical instruments, 300 surgical procedures and classifies human surgeries in 8 categories.

Stating that the MMC&RI, which will be celebrating its centenary next year, has added one more feather to its cap with the installation of Maharshi Sushruta statue, he thanked Dr. C.P. Nanjaraj, Dr. M.A. Shekar, VC of Adichunchanagiri University, Bellur and also MMC&RI alumnus and sculptor Arun Yogiraj for their unstinted support.

MMC&RI Dean and Director Dr. K.R. Dakshayini, Dr. M.A. Shekar, Dr. S. Chandrashekar, President of MMC Alumni Association, Hema Nandish, MMC&RI Governing Council member; MMC&RI alumni – Dr. Srinivas, Dr. Ramesh, Dr. Uthappa, Dr. Vishweshwar, Dr. Jayachandra Gupta, Dr. Nanjappa, Dr. K.R. Mysuru, Mar. 25 (BS)- Congress party's Central Election Committee (CEC) has released the first list of 124 candidates against the total 224 Constituencies this morning, for the forthcoming elections to the Legislative Assembly of Karnataka, most probably to be held in May, with almost all of the party's sitting MLAs including KPCC President D. K. Shivakumar (Kanakapura) and Leader of Opposition in Legislative Assembly Siddharamaiah (Varuna), defeated candidates in the previous elections held in 2018, including in Mysuru district, getting the ticket, according to the list signed by Mukul Wasnik, General Secretary, Incharge of CEC.

With this, the grand-old party has readied its field for the electoral battle ahead, and the prominent rival parties — ruling BJP and JD(S) — are yet to release the list.

Of the total 11 Assembly Constituencies in Mysuru district, Congress candidates have been announced for eight Constituencies including that of Siddharamaiah from Varuna, former Minister and sitting MLA Tanveer Sait from Narasimharaja Assembly Constituency and other sitting MLAs — C. Anil Kumar (Anil Chikkamadu) from H. D. Kote (ST Reserve) and H.P. Manjunath from Hunsur, and former Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa from T. Narasipur (SC Reserve), former MLA K. Venkatesh from Periyapatna, D. Ravishankar from K. R. Nagar and Darshan Dhruvanarayan from Nanjangud (SC Reserve).

The candidates for three other Constituencies in the district — Chamundeshwari, Krishnaraja and Chamaraja Assembly — have not been announced in the list, mostly due to the multiple aspirants lobbying hard for ticket in these Constituencies.

Following the release of the list, speculations over the Constituency from where Siddharamaiah, the sitting MLA of Badami in Bagalkot district, will contest the election, have been put to rest, with the former CM being fielded from Varuna Constituency, which is currently being represented by his son Dr. Yathindra Siddharamaiah.

Siddharamaiah himself had told the media yesterday that he has apprised the party High Command over the decision taken in consultation with his family members over fighting election from Varuna (from where he had won twice in 2008 and 2013 Assembly elections and also became the Chief Minister of the State from 2013 to 2018). Even Congress leader Rahul Gandhi had recently told Siddharamaiah to contest from Varuna, considered a safe seat, instead of Kolar, where he (Siddharamaiah) was planning to fight the election this time.

Till last minute, Tanveer Sait claimed to have been convincing the High Command to field Siddharamaiah from Narasimharaja. Recently, he (Sait) had also announced his decision not to contest the polls, citing health reasons, that did not go down well with his supporters, with two among them attempting suicide.

Darshan, the Nanjangud candidate, is the son of KPCC Working President late R. Dhruvanarayan, who died of heart attack on Mar.11 in the city.

D. Ravishankar, a ZP member, had unsuccessfully contested the previous election from K.R. Nagar and K. Venkatesh had lost to JD(S) in Periyapatna. Both have been fielded again.

Surprisingly, Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa has been fielded again from T. Narasipur (SC Reserve), for which his son Sunil Bose had emerged as a front-runner in the recent days. Dr. Mahadevappa had failed to retain T. Narasipur seat in the previous elections held in 2018, as he had lost to JD(S).

In Kodagu, of the only two Assembly Constituencies, A.S. Ponnanna, the former Additional Advocate General of Government of Karnataka, has been fielded from Virajpet Constituency. The candidate for Madikeri seat is yet to be announced.

In Chamarajanagar district, barring Kollegal (SC Reserve) Constituency, the candidates have been announced for other three remaining Constituencies. Former Minister late H. S. Mahadevaprasad's son H.M. Ganesh Prasad is the nominee from Gundlupet, sitting MLA and former Minister C. Puttaranga Shetty from Chamarajanagar and another sitting MLA R. Narendra from Hanur.

Mandya district

Of the total seven Assembly Constituencies in Mandya district, candidates have been announced for Srirangapatna - A. B. Ramesh Bandisiddegowda, Malavalli (SC Reserve) - P. M. Narendraswamy and Nagamangala - N. Cheluvarayaswamy. The candidates for remaining Constituencies — Mandya, Maddur, K.R. Pet and Melukote — are yet to be announced.

PM Modi to release Tiger Census statistics in Mysuru on Apr. 9

Three-day mega event to showcase Centre's big cat conservation efforts

Narendra Modi

New Delhi, Mar. 25 (MTY&BCT)- Prime Minister Narendra Modi will launch a three-day mega event on Apr. 9 in Mysuru to mark the completion of 50 years of Project Tiger and showcase India's tiger conservation success globally.

According to reports from New Delhi, the PM will also release the latest tiger census data, the Government's vision for tiger conservation during 'Amrit Kaal'. A commemorative coin will also be released, said Member- Secretary of the National Tiger Conservation Authority S.P. Yadav.

"We are the only country which has done an independent periodic assessment of tiger reserves. The Prime Minister will release a detailed report on this," he said.

The three-day event will see the participation of Forest and Wildlife Ministers of all States, Ministers of all tiger range countries, scientists and representatives of major international NGOs.

Why Mysuru was chosen?

Sources said that the PM's event will either be held at the Senate Hall of the University of Mysore or at the KSOU Convocation Hall. The venue has not been finalised due to security reasons.

Mysuru has been chosen as the venue of the mega event and the place to release the latest tiger census data due to the formidable presence of many Tiger Reserves like the Bandipur National Park, Nagarahole Tiger Reserve, Male Mahadeshwara Wildlife Sanctuary, Biligiri Ranganatha Tiger (BRT) Reserve and K.Gudi Wildlife Sanctuary in the Old Mysuru region.

These sanctuaries are spread across three States — Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and Kerala — and are an integral part of the Western Ghats and the Nilgiri Biosphere. Sources from the Forest Department said that the tiger census data is likely to reveal Karnataka (with many Tiger Reserves in the Old Mysuru region) having the highest (Number One position) number of big cats in India,

Karnataka's first Project Tiger

India launched Project Tiger on April 1, 1973, to promote tiger conservation. Initially, it covered nine tiger reserves spread over 18,278 sq km. Incidentally, Karnataka's first Project Tiger was implemented in Bandipur Tiger Reserve in 1973 and it has been 50 years (Golden Jubilee) ever since.

On Nov. 17, 1973, the then Chief Minister D. Devaraj Urs declared Bandipur Park as a 'Tiger Reserve' heralding a new era of tiger protection in the country. Bandipur was announced as Park by including Venugopalaswamy Wildlife area and surrounding forest on Feb. 19, 1941.

Only 13 tigers were there at the time of launching Project Tiger at Bandipur. Now, thanks to the sustained efforts of forest officials, this Park has more than 175 tigers.

In 1985, some more areas were brought under Tiger Reserve and re-christened as Bandipur National Park. At that time, the total area of the Park was 874.20 sq.km and more forest area was added in the coming years. Now the total area of Tiger Reserve was 912.04 sq kms which included Wayanad in Kerala, Mudhumalai in Tamil Nadu and BRT Sanctuary.

70 percent of global wild tiger population

At present, India has 53 tiger reserves covering more than 75,000 sq km (approximately 2.4 percent of the country's geographical area) of tiger habitat. With a current population of about 3,000 tigers, India is home to more than 70 percent of the global wild tiger population and their number is increasing by six percent per annum.

The tiger reserves are repositories for biodiversity conservation in the country. These ensure regional water security and carbon sequestration and thus contribute to accomplishing India's climate change mitigation targets.

Countries with tiger populations — India, Bangladesh, Bhutan, China, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, Myanmar, Nepal, Russia, Thailand and Vietnam — in 2010 committed to doubling their number of big cats by 2022. India met its target in 2018, four years ahead of schedule.

Decentralise waste disposal in Mysuru

Chairman of National Green Tribunal Monitoring Committee Justice Subhash B. Adi tells officers

Mysuru, Mar. 25 (MTY&BCT)- Justice Subhash B. Adi, Chairman of National Green Tribunal (NGT) Monitoring Committee, Karnataka, has called upon the District Administration and Local Administrative bodies to devise more effective and decentralised waste management in Mysuru district.

Reviewing the progress pertaining to waste management at a meeting with officials at the Deputy Commissioner's Office yesterday, Justice Adi said that the officials had projected to him that waste segregation at source in Mysuru is 90 percent. "This is an impressive figure but there is no authentic data as to what percentage of it was being converted to compost which is the standard procedure as laid down by the NGT and Municipal Solid Waste Management rules," he said.

The meeting was called to take stock of the steps taken to reduce waste generation and scientific disposal of waste in various departments. "There is a general public feeling that the waste management system can be efficient if the Solid Waste Management wing of any urban body is independent of Corporators and MLAs. Lesser the interference, the more efficient the system will be," he observed.

While officials tried to paint a rosy picture of the effective disposal of solid waste, Justice Adi was unconvinced and his queries did not elicit a satisfactory reply. Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra intervened and said that suitable changes would be incorporated to ensure that there is end-to-end monitoring of solid waste disposal. He also assured Justice Adi that the waste will be converted into compost for revenue generation. In the coming years, e-waste management will become the biggest problem in the world, which has to be tackled systematically. 80 percent of e-waste generated is possible and much work needs to be done in terms of this modern adequate maintenance, reuse and processing, Justice Adi observed.

C&D waste plant non-starter

Justice Adi asked officials to take steps to curb the debris menace. He said collection and transportation of Construction and Demolition (C&D) waste should be conducted in a transparent manner and it should be transported in vehicles obtained for that work only.

During the review, Justice Adi said that C&D waste will emerge as a major problem in the absence of a suitable mechanism for recycling or management. Replying to the observation, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Health Officer Dr. D.G. Nagaraj noted that land for the C&D plant had been allotted by the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) and had been transferred to the MCC and the plant would come up soon.

However, Justice Adi recalled that he had received the same answer in the last meeting as well. Dr. Nagaraj replied that the proposal along with the Detailed Project Report was with the Government for final approval.

Justice Adi also pointed out that despite specific laws to penalise violators, officials are taking no steps to stop the dumping of debris and construction materials haphazardly at vacant places in different parts of the city.

Manage waste at source

"If there is a possibility to manage waste at source, many of the problems can be solved. Every household must segregate waste. This system is still not developed as even if waste is segregated, the person who collects will mix them up. This has to change, he said.

Calling for a decentralised mechanism to deal with the waste problem, Justice Adi asked the MCC to encourage people to compost waste at the Ward-level. "The Ward authorities must identify places where minimum composting can be done so that maximum composting is done at the Ward level. Wet waste should not go to processing units or landfill. At the village level, a cluster of Gram Panchayats could be considered as a unit for establishing solid waste management plants to eliminate transportation costs," he explained.

Justice Adi called upon the officers to strictly enforce the single-use plastic ban. No plastic carry bags must be available and hefty penalties must be imposed. He said that the District Administration should ensure there were plastic waste-free zones.

Biomedical waste

He expressed satisfaction with the disposal of biomedical waste at hospitals. "The medical waste generated is being dumped at the common biomedical waste treatment plant. Officials can co-opt hospitals and clinics to set in motion a scientific disposal mechanism, he directed.

Penalties must be imposed if the waste is not properly collected and transported and it's imperative that all the waste processing plants must function properly. Awareness should be created among people regarding the proper disposal of waste and awareness workshops should be conducted along with poster campaigns locally at the level of residential areas, Justice Adi said.

Senior Civil Judge and Member-Secretary of District Legal Services Authority Devaraj Bhute, Additional SP Dr. B.N. Nandini, Deputy Commissioner of Police (Law and Order) M. Muthuraj and officials from various taluks were present.

Government hikes Lingayat and Vokkaliga reservation quota by 2 percent each

Bengaluru, Mar. 25- In a strategic move that comes days ahead of the announcement of Assembly elections, the State Government on Friday hiked the reservation quota for Lingayat and Vokkaliga communities by two percent each.

The hike will increase their reservation in the OBC pool to 6 percent and 7 percent under categories 2(C) and 2 (D) respectively, from the present 4 and 5 percent. The Government removed Muslims from the 2B category (4 percent) of Other Backward Classes (OBC) and split the quantum equally between Veerashaiva-Lingayats and Vokkaligas at 2 percent each.

The two communities were earlier under Categories 3A and 3B, which stand scrapped.

With this delicate balancing act, the BJP Government hopes to placate the politically dominant Lingayat and Vokkaliga communities that had sought a hike in their quotas. The Government was especially under pressure from the Panchamasalis, a numerically stronger sub-sect of Lingayats, which has launched an indefinite stir at Bengaluru seeking adequate reservation.

Announcing this after probably what is his last Cabinet meeting ahead of the forthcoming Assembly polls, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said that under the newly created categories of 2C and 2D in OBC quota for Vokkaligas and Veerashaiva-Lingayats, the reservation quota had increased from 4 percent to 6 percent and from 5 percent to 7 percent respectively.

In another move, the Cabinet decided to approve internal reservation among 101 Scheduled Castes and recommend it to the Centre for implementation. The break-up of the internal reservation for Scheduled Castes is: 6 percent for SC (Left), 5.5 percent for SC (Right), 4.5 percent for SC - Touchables (Banjara, Bhovi, Korcha, Kuruma etc.) and 1 percent for SC (Others), totalling 17 percent.

Will decide after discussing new reservation quota: Panchamasali Seer: Meanwhile, Panchamasali Seer Basavajaya Mrutyunjaya Swamji, who has been spearheading an indefinite stir seeking reservation for Panchamasali Lingayat sub-sect, which has a sizeable population in the State, said that he will announce his decision on whether to withdraw the agitation or not, after thoroughly studying the Government's latest reservation quota announced on Friday.

"We will study the entire text of the reservation quota announced by the Government on Friday and come to a conclusion on whether to call off the agitation. As promised, Chief Minister Bommai has announced the reservation, which will be discussed with community leader Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, an MLA and other legal experts, before we make an announcement on calling off the stir on Mar.25. Until then, the community members should not celebrate," he pointed out.
